

Some More Interactive Learning Sites to Interest You!

1. Improve your typing speed.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/topics/zf2f9j6/articles/z3c6tfr>

An introduction to touch typing for children aged 7 - 11 years. There are four levels to play, each divided into three stages.

2. Scratch Online <https://scratch.mit.edu>

KS2 children will already be familiar with this software. It's great for learning basic coding.

<https://projects.raspberrypi.org/en/codeclub> This site has step-by-step instructions for various projects using Scratch (suitable for 9-13 year olds)

3. <https://www.scouts.org.uk/the-great-indoors/> Here you'll find some fun indoor educational activities currently being promoted by British astronaut Tim Peake. All ages.

4. <https://www.natgeokids.com/uk/> This is the National Geographic site for children. There are lots of interesting articles about animals, discoveries, scientists, different cultures etc as well as quizzes and other activities. All ages

5. <https://literacytrust.org.uk/family-zone/> This is the National Literacy Trust website. 'Split up by age group, you will find ideas and guidance for simple activities that will engage your children at home, while also benefiting their reading, writing and language development.' All ages.

6. <https://www.coolmathgames.com>

'Coolmath Games is a brain-training site, for everyone, where logic & thinking & math meets fun & games. These games have no violence, no empty action, just a lot of challenges that will make you forget you're getting a mental workout!' All ages.

7. <https://www.stem.org.uk/home-learning> This site has a huge number of 'activities that parents can use at home to help children develop their science, technology, engineering and maths skills.' All ages.

8. <https://www.bbc.co.uk/teach/ten-pieces/all-resources/zdg3t39> 'Explore the stories and secrets hidden in this set of forty classical pieces of music. For each piece you will find teaching resources, exciting short films, arrangements and more.'

9. <https://www.duolingo.com> A fun language learning website.